

GLOBAL HEALTH MENTORSHIPS - SYP -

An online global, group based mentorship program connecting Students and Young Professionals (SYPs) with experienced professionals from different fields within Global Health

FACTS ABOUT GHMe

- Founded as a non-profit organization by the Swedish Network for International Health and the Global Health Next Generation Network in January 2015
- Facilitates remote participation
- Encourages out-of-the-box thinking through our continuously updated curriculum and support the launch of new solutions in the global health arena.
- Meets goals: 89.5% of participants indicated that the goals they had set at the beginning of their mentorship period had been met

BEING A SYP

- Have the opportunity to boost your global health career by networking with experienced professionals and peers within and beyond your fields of interest
- Duration: 5 consecutive months
- Commitment: Approximately 5-10 hours of mentoring per month, but it depends on the type of relationship you build with your mentor
- Who is your Mentor: A professional with at least five years of working experience in your field of interest
- You receive: A detailed SYP Handbook, monthly Modules, guidance throughout the program, and Certificate of Completion.

TESTIMONIAL

"I have to say that my experience exceeded my expectations and I feel more prepared and confident for a career in global health. I can definitely recommend it to anyone, who is honestly interested. The modules were challenging and covered a lot of topics."

Katharina Berecz, Germany, SYP 2016
